

Teddy Hall's Meet the Poet Series Presents

A POETRY READING BY

ANGE MLINKO

Monday, November 25th 2024, 5:30pm
The Old Dining Hall, St Edmund Hall

Ange Mlinko is the author of six books of poetry: Venice (2022); Distant Mandate (2017); Marvelous Things Overheard (2013), which was selected by both the New Yorker and the Boston Globe as a best book of 2013; Shoulder Season (2010), a finalist for the William Carlos Williams Award; Starred Wire (2005), which was a National Poetry Series winner in 2004 and a finalist for the James Laughlin Award; and Matinees (1999). Her seventh collection, Foxgloves, is forthcoming from Faber and FSG this January. A book of lyric criticism, Difficult Ornaments: Florida and the Poets, is just out from Oxford University Press.

She was a Guggenheim Fellow in 2014–15; served as poetry editor for The Nation from 2013–16; and her criticism, for which she was given the Randall Jarrell Award by the Poetry Foundation in 2010, appears regularly in the London Review of Books and New York Review of Books. She teaches poetry at the University of Florida in Gainesville, and is poetry editor for the journal Subtropics.

THIS READING IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

For queries, contact erica.mcalpine@ell.ox.ac.uk